CICC has been conducting professionally-led parenting instructor training workshops for over 30 years. These week long workshops train and certify people who work for schools, community agencies, government and religious groups to deliver one of CICC's national model parenting skill-building programs, the New Confident Parenting Program, or the Effective Black Parenting Program or the Los Niño's Bien Educados Program (See Parenting Programs).

Over 7000 individuals from more than 2500 local organizations have already been trained in and graduated from these workshops. In turn they have educated thousands of parents in their communities. Visit our website for resources to help strengthen families and communities.. www.ciccparenting.org

If you and your organization would like CICC to bring a workshop in The New Confident Parenting, Effective Black Parenting or Los Niño's Bien Educados program to your community, please complete and return a Workshop Application Form
